Summary of reasons for decision:

The computer moving image file is objectionable because it promotes and supports the exploitation of young persons for sexual purposes.

The file consists of a clip explicitly depicting sexual activity involving a man and a girl in her early to mid-teens. The purpose of the clip is to arouse people with a sexual interest in young girls. The material encourages this sexual interest and promotes the use of young people for adult sexual gratification.

The classification of this publication interferes with the freedom of expression as set out in the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990. However, this is an outcome consistent with Parliament's intention that publications which promote and support the exploitation of young persons for sexual purposes will be deemed objectionable. The classification reflects the concern of a free and democratic society and is a reasonable and demonstrably justified limitation on the freedom of expression.
